WHY PLAY MATTERS FOR FAITH ORGANIZATIONS

Families are more likely to engage and return when children feel welcome and excited. Play supports connection, learning, and trust within faith-based environments. Offering a captivating indoor play area in your faith organization, lets parents engage with other members and helps kids learn and play in a caring environment.

Our play equipment can be custom-designed to bring your faith to the forefront, so you create more opportunities to share the stories of your scripture.

“Our Soft Play indoor playground communicates immediately to families that first walk into the building that “we LOVE KIDS!” - without us saying a word. It has also helped increase the fellowship time that families experience at Kirk Crossing.
